Lukas the Drillmaster

Artikel info:-

Lukas enters the training room in a pretty bad mood. He goes on to bully the participants of his kick boxing class with his mean attitude. He makes them stand up in a row, and dishes out some rules they have to obey. But not everyone is intimidated, some laugh behind his back. When he notices this, Lukas throws a fit, and orders them to make push-ups and squats. After the warm-up, they set up the great mats. They are to play "Keeper of the Castle," and Lukas intends to show them who rules the mats. The objective of the game is to push all the other players off of the mats. The last one remaining is the winner. A battle of all-versus-all ensues. In order to keep the game from devolving into chaos, the players get paired off, and the winner of one pair is to fight the winner of the other pair. The first match is between Patti and Justin. The much lighter Justin is defeated after a hard fight, and gets to rest for a round. Next, Patti faces Al Pacini, who gives him a harder time than his previous opponent. It's a tough battle, and the two resort to more and more nasty tricks to gain an advantage. But Patti outgrows himself in this match, and he defeats Al Pacini. We were totally amazed by that, and all we can say is "Wow!" But it gets better yet. Now coach Lukas decides to take care of Patti. But Patti surprisingly manages to turn the tables, and he takes Lukas in the grip. Lukas won't have any of this, and he tries everything to save himself from losing, but to no avail. Patti is the undisputed number 1 of the evening. It's an extremely hard and long fight, with lots of ballgrabs, wedgies and scissors. To compensate for his defeat, and to savour at least a small taste of success, Lukas then takes on Justin, and vents his aggression on him. But in the end, they all gang together against the coach, and they take their revenge by dragging him into the cold shower.
