Worse at Night

Artikel info:-

Once again the Fightplace youngsters are in action and in "Worse at Night" Bubu is the victim, harassed by Tibet. It's late in the evening and Bubu has already gone to bed. Tibet, however, cannot sleep and starts getting silly ideas. He goes into Bubu's room and when he sees that Bubu is fast asleep, he paints on his face. Bubu doesn't notice a thing, it's only later when he goes to the bathroom that he finds out about the naughty prank.

Determined to take revenge on Tibet, he goes over to him, wakes him and confronts him. Tibet immediately sets to and a bundle begins on Tibet's bed, but as there is not enough room there for a proper fight, they both go into the cellar, where the mats are laid out. There they fight determinedly, first trying to subdue each other with headlocks. At this point the fight is still relatively well balanced. Tibet is stronger but Bubu appears to be faster and more agile and he uses these advantages well. However, Tibet eventually attacks his opponent with a great leg scissors, squeezing almost all the breath out of Bubu with his muscular thighs. Bubu can now only defend himself with wedgies, which leads to some stress-tests on both of their trousers! On the whole this is not a wild fight, but rather a calm one with many long-lasting holds and, except for an exceedingly long bear hug by Tibet, a lot of ground fighting.
