Artikel info:-

Basti and Marius are on the ski slope and want to give proof of their snowboarding skills. Marius is a beginner while Basti already knows some tricks which he lets Marius feel when riding up from behind and flooring him. Marius bobs up with some problems but goes on riding. After a while they meet again and Basti disses him for his poor boarding skills. Marius gets mad about this bigmouthed behavior and suggests a fight in the evening. So they meet up in the apartment. The apartment next door is empty so they stage their battle there without disturbing anyone or getting disturbed. The guys get rid of the warm clothes and onto the mat. Basti wasn't fighting for quite some time now but is bigger and stronger then Marius. Is Marius able to close this gap with his fighting experience? It really seems as if Marius could reach Bastis level. Both use legscissors on their opponent which has always been the specialty of Basti. The fight gets harder and they deploy wedgies and ballgraps. Basti or Marius? One becomes the loser the other the honor of victory.
