Boys by the canal

Artikel info:-

Tomek, just 18 years of age, is a workmate of Wladi. Both of them wanted to cool down at the canal, because they had a day full of hard work and it was really hot outside. A few minutes after they arrived at the location, Wladi pulled Tomek into the river. Tomek was angry on his mate, because he was still wearing his jeans. Tomek went out of the water so fast he can to grab Wladi. Now both of them flew into the water. Wladi is mad on Tomek, because it takes a long time until his jeans gets dry, even if he started doing this bullshit. Later they found a plane on a field. Maybe a farmer forgot it out there. Wladi got an idea. He never had a fight with his mate and today is the perfect time to do that, because they're mad on each other. But Wladi needs a special reason to fight. He bets for his scooter. Immediately you're able to see, that Wladi found a equal enemy. Although Tomek is not that experienced, he is able to show him his limit. Both of them are fighting really hard and with lots of endurance. Wladi still wants to be the King Of Fightplace and Tomek wants to present his skills. So you should not wonder that they're using some illegal tricks, too. After 20 minutes they ripped of their jeans. Now they're fighting in their wet underwear. Should Wladi still be the King Of Fightplace or should he resign his title?
