New Kid in Town

Artikel info:-

Bruno is new in town. When he heard about Fightplace he really wanted to join the little wrestling club. He was a big fan of wrestling and watched it nearly every evening in TV. This was his chance to perform those tricks life. But he had to wait for it, because he had bad grades in school. His mother, who had to sign a consent form, presupposed that he had to get better grades. He agreed and just a few month later he turned to bad grades into better ones. Now it was time to enter Fightplace. His start up is against Devin. They are the same age, but Devin is a little heavier and optically bigger. The reason for this fight is an argument over a jacket. What we could see in the first rounds of the fight was very suprising. This little guy seems to inhale every wrestling move out there and is now using them against Devin. It is great fun to watch him, to see him use his legs and to dominate Devin with his moves. Devin tries to counter him with all his might. Near the end bob is getting in between. He saw the fight between Devin and Bruno and decided to check the new one as well. Does Bruno have enough power to challenge this taller and havier opponent?
