Moe in Berlin 1+ 2 - Bundle

Artikel info:-

Moe heard about the new guys in the Berlin Fightplace Team and was eager to compete with them. Since we can't refuse our little, cheeky guy any wish, we invited him without further ado to our Berlin studio. In the first fight there he meets Sean. Sean has already fought a few fights and knows where to go. And a certain experience is needed if you're gonna go up against Moe. Because our lightweight is already an "old hand" by now, at least as far as his numerous fights on Fightplace are concerned. So he has a lot of experience in fighting, has a lot of good tricks and knows dirty ones to help when he's in trouble. Especially the latter and certain lack of inhibition, is often lacking in newcomers. But Sean has learned quickly in his few battles at Fightplace and is therefore a match for Moe. The two also fit together well in terms of body size. After Moe enters the fight room, he takes off his shirt and warms up with a few push-ups. Shortly afterwards Sean joins him. Without a lot of words it starts right away and you notice immediately that both don't want to spare themselves. Moe throws Sean to the ground and gets him into a body scissor. First it looks bad for Sean but he manages to free himself from it. Sean gets Moe under him, dominates briefly with a schoolboy pin and then grabs him in a body scissor. The first round goes to Sean. Moe did not expect this. But he sees the first round as a warm-up and is not intimidated. On the contrary, now he wants to know it. He takes off his sweatpants and fights the rest of the fight in thongs. Sean also takes off all but his panties and so they both go into the next round. In the second round it gets wilder and more unrestrained. The fight is nicely balanced, which we admittedly did not suspect before. But Moe has indeed no easy game with Sean. He is extremely agile, can dominate the wiry boy from the small town very well with some tricks. So Moe realizes that he has to put a shovel on it to keep from going under. He starts to attack Sean with painful ball grabs and then gets him into a violent headscissor in which he makes him fidget for a long time. It seems almost impossible to get out of it. But for a few minutes he spins and turns so hard that Moe can't hold him anymore. But Moe quickly catches him again. A schoolboy pin follows with muscle riding on Sean's biceps. Then Moe tries to get him back into his dreaded body scissor. He succeeds and now there is no escape for Sean. This round goes to Moe, even though it wasn't easy. After a short break, the next rounds are at full throttle. Moe always manages to dominate Sean with Schoolboy and Bullypins. This gets Moe really going and he is in his element. Through overconfidence seldom does good and so Moe has to suffer from some attacks from Sean. Sean also likes to let his opponent fidget in long lasting holds.

The second fight with Moe in the Berlin Fight Room is a more

erotic and harder fight. This time Simon is Moe's opponent, who already watched Moe's first fight against Sean for a while. So he could already see that his fight against Moe will not be comparable to one of the fights Simon already had at Fightplace. After his fight with Sean, Moe first needs a little break. He chills in the lounge, has a drink and watches women's wrestling on TV. Simon is there too, already dressed or better undressed and ready for the battle. After a sufficient break, it's back to the fighting room and into the first round. Moe sets a good pace, bringing Simon under him right at the start. And he doesn't torch for long. Nipple twister, CBT and a nice schoolboy pin let promise a lot, what will follow. For a while it gives the impression that Simon has a lot to offer. But only for a while, because at some point it's enough for him and there's payback. Both get into a submission-fight, in which slaps, wedgies and ball grabs hail down. No trick or move is left out to make the opponent give up. Until shortly before the end it is not clear who will win this fight. Because both fighters are about equally strong, which makes this fight exciting and worth seeing. Since both guys are sporty and slim, you can not score with weight or mass, but must come with good grips, tricks and endurance to win. Although Simon is much less experienced than his opponent he delivers a very good fight. And you can tell that he wants to see more of Moe. Over and over again he tries to get Moe stripped completely, which he won't put up with. Moe rather turns the tables and strips his opponent naked. The constant attacks on his underpants allow some insights, but make Moe furious and so he gives his all in the last minutes and lets his opponent feel the power he has inside him.
