The Man from the dark

Artikel info:-

November is here and the days are getting noticeably shorter. Many a riffraff now roams under cover of darkness. So does Jasko, the young gangster. Not only does he roam the premises in the dark, he is also dressed rather darkly. What is he up to? Is he going to crack one of the cars parked in the yard? Or is he just curious and wants to meet someone from Fightplace? The latter is more likely, because he puts an end to his curiosity by simply knocking on the window because he sees light in the small Fight-Company's premises. Momo, who is currently cleaning, is surprised about the visit from the darkness and not at all enthusiastic. He suspects that the boy has evil in mind. Because neither of them dares to face the other and doesn't suspect good from the other, they quickly get into a fight. Of course, this can only be resolved by a fight, man against man. Jasko gives the impression, purely physically and from his whole appearance, that he is the right opponent for Momo. Strong enough and man enough to hold a candle to Momo. And in fact, the first minutes of the fight are already full of action. Both go into business from the first second on. Almost too hard for the beginning, because that can quickly lead to injuries. But that's the way it is when two alpha males, who have never seen each other before, meet. The well-built Jasko, just 20 years old and already a little bit experienced in fighting, goes on enormously. But he soon realizes that wrestling is not streetfighting. You need a lot of stamina in addition to technique and strength. And this is exactly where Momo is ahead. And Momo has more experience in ground fighting. His leg scissors are brutal and have worn down many a fighter in Fightplace. So no easy game for the newcomer in his debut fight. But we were astonished about his callousness, to get Momo quite fast. We know that he has no problem with that. Momo returns the favor and shows Jasko what wedgies are.
