Im Back!

Artikel info:-

You have waited long enough. The first movie in 2022 is out and we think it reflects the old spirit of Fightplace very well. Hard, real action, executed by young sporty guys, who you like to watch in a fight. So right at the beginning of this year a comeback, which has it fist thick behind the ears. Not to be expected otherwise, because the one who screams I'm Back! here is none other than your favorite MOE. Hector is training his body in the small fitness area of Fightplace. He is alone and wants to finish his workout and take a shower, when suddenly someone comes in the door. He is surprised, because the guy has a key to the gym. And besides, he doesn't know him. The guy who has the key and is visiting the studio again after a long time is Moe. Moe has probably got wind of the fact that there is another, a new fighter, who could perhaps outrun him. Accordingly, he appears irritated and aggressive towards Hector. Hector can only smile tiredly at the petite, already rather thin boy with the big mouth. But the situation comes to a head dramatically, and after a few sentences, things are already getting heated in the training area. The two boys don't waste time. Especially not when it comes to positions or number 1 in the fans' rankings. But before they start banging heads between the weight bench and other equipment, they go next door to the mat room. There they fight in their street clothes at the beginning, but they soon have to wear them out and they don't stand up to various rip tests. After a short time they are only in their underwear, but that doesn't bother either of them. One could almost think, on the contrary, because Moe then really turns on and can also hurt the opponent with wedgies and other nasty games. Despite Moe's long break, he shows his best side here and once again delivers top performance on the mat. Hector can handle the light opponent reasonably well, but quickly realizes that he is dealing with a very serious and tricky fighter. Also the long experience from numerous fights at Fightplace brings Moe of course some advantages. But also Hector has done some fights now and so we see a hard, tough showdown of the agile and ambitious fighters. The end of the fight is quite dramatic. You can see that after more than an hour of strenuous fighting, both can no longer, there is no more power, but giving up is not an option.
