Heavy on Hotties - Part One & Part Two - Bundle

Artikel info:-

Fat meets Skinny is the motto of this two-parter, in which Moe once again meets his nemesis Hector, but also has to deal with the heavyweight George. Hector has brought his buddy George along for the workout, who also wants to do something for his body and works diligently with the dumbbells with Hector. During the workout they talk about a long ago fight that George lost against Hector back then. The guys decide to continue the fight, that is, to start a revenge match, instead of working out on the machines. In their street clothes they go to the fight room next door. There they get down to business without hesitation and with a lot of power. You can already see in their faces the effort required to get the opponent into a controllable position. It's not easy for Hector to get the 90 kg George under control, let alone to get him on the ground and fix him there. George also fights very powerfully and not at all slow in his movements and tricks. This makes it even harder for Hector. After a few sweaty rounds Moe enters the studio. Immediately he starts a fight with Hector. Aggressively and extremely doggedly the two fight after few exchanged words. George can use this time to recover a bit from the previous efforts. But not for long. Because Moe not only wants to make a final decision with Hector (at the moment it is 1:1 in the overall standings), but also wants to prove right away that he is the top dog here. Thus he also has to compete against George. Fat vs Skinny. 90 kg vs 60 kg. Is that possible? Can Moe handle it? Or will he be crushed by George?

George is really aggressive right at the start of this round. He shows this clearly by tearing his shirt in front of his opponent. Afterwards he grabs Moe, lifts him up and then throws him with force to the ground. A long schoolboypin follows, because with his weight he naturally makes it very difficult for Moe to get free of him. But Moe is an insane technician and he has what it takes to turn the tide. Quick as a flash he turns the tables, goes into a Schoolboypin himself and from there into a Headscissor with which he freaks out his opponent. George gets angry! But that doesn't help. He is held in this grip for a long time, until sweat helps to break free. He is able to slip out of the legs of Moe. Now he grabs the lightweight and lifts it above him. Along with him it goes to the ground and again Moe has all kinds of work to do to take the extreme weight over him. The round ends in a draw. It is also amazing how Moe tries to psychologically influence his opponent. Again and again he starts a round with provocations, tries to scare his opponent. And he even succeeds. Now the time has come for Hector to interfere again. The arch-rivals continue their fight. Hector gets Moe under him. In a Schoolboypin he can hold him under him for a long time. Direct transition from the schoolboypin into a body scissor. Moe gets into trouble. Hector presses his strong thighs tightly around Moe. At the same time, his arms wrap around Moe's head. No escape for Moe. Payback for Hector, who is now enjoying his role to the fullest. After the body scissor, he switches back to a schoolboy pin to further humiliate Moe. This includes some backpunches and nipple twisters that Moe now has to put up with. In principle, there is no escape from this. Especially since also the strength slowly decreases. If it weren't for those nasty little tricks you can use during a fight to get out of some hopeless situations. Moe knows these tricks and now uses them without qualms. Ballgrab and Wedgie lead to at least an improvement of the situation. But this does not get rid of Hector. Hector fights on doggedly despite the nasty attacks. It is again the experience, the speed and also the power of our slim fighter that makes it possible to turn the tide. A spirited quick turn and Moe already has his opponent under him. What follows now is pure torture. A really hard Schoolboy pin combined with Bullypin, simultaneous CBT and many other variations of freestyle wrestling. Several more times victory and defeat of the two opponents alternate in this fierce fight. One gets the impression that the hardness increases from fight to fight to finally bring about a final decision. But the guys are about equal in strength and so it takes some time of extreme wrestling to get to the result. In the process, all the tricks are used, the pants are almost torn, pocketed and dealt out for all it's worth. Only after half an hour George interferes again. He grabs first Hector and then Moe. At the end he wants to show both guys what a heavyweight can do. Now they fight 2 vs 1 and use lying around shirts for strangulation. Especially Hector has to undergo some lousy attacks. Moe, who really gets going again, is in his element and doesn't even shy away from George. George also has to taste his own shirt. He takes revenge on both boys with extreme wedgies when he gets free. Of course, you won't find out anything about the end at this point. It remains exciting! Have fun!
